Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: It's a great day for windsurfing!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about directions to places in a limited range of social situations

Ask your partner:

- How often do you go to the beach?
- Do you prefer swimming in a pool or in the ocean? Why?

Can Do Statements

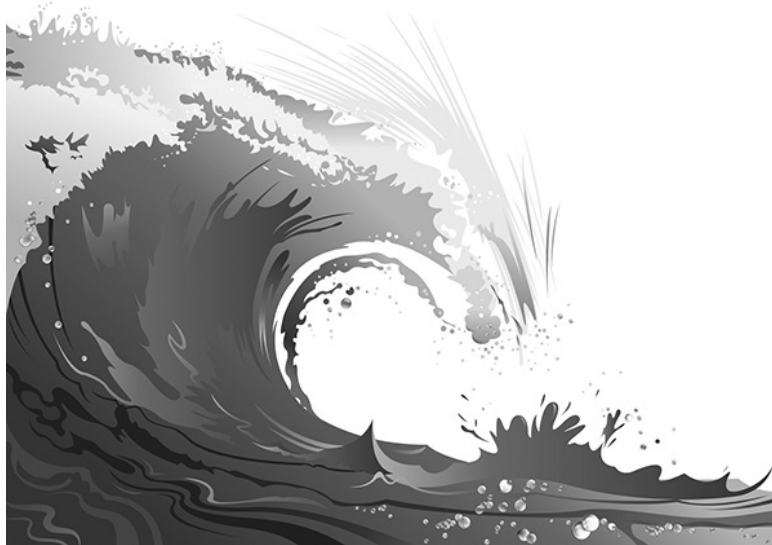

- I can say and use words that start with W.
- I can talk about what people are doing and not doing.
- I can identify key information in a short audio.

Let's Explore!

John talks to a tourist on the cruise ship. Do you think they should go windsurfing?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

John: Excuse me, are you taking the windsurfing day tour today?
Tourist: Yes, actually. How did you know?
John: I heard you and your wife talking at breakfast this morning.
Tourist: Yes, we are looking forward to windsurfing in Baja.
John: The weather looks miserable. There are whitecaps on the water. It's so windy today!
Tourist: I agree. The weather is pretty wild. We are feeling a little nervous!
John: Don't worry. Windsurfing in Baja is a wonderful experience.
Tourist: Hmm. We shall see.
John: Are you renting the equipment on the cruise ship or on the beach?
Tourist: On the beach. What time is the bus picking up the passengers?
John: 8 a.m. sharp, I am planning to join the group today.
Tourist: That's great!

Contractions in the Present Continuous Tense

You use the Present Continuous tense to talk about actions which are happening at the present moment, but will soon finish.

Contractions or short forms of the verb are usually used in speaking.

Here are some examples in the affirmative and negative forms.

Affirmative	Example	Negative	Example
I am	I'm playing	I am not	I'm not playing
You are	You're playing	You are not	You're not playing/You aren't playing
He is	He's playing	He is not	He's not playing/He isn't playing
She is	She's playing	She is not	She's not playing/She isn't playing
We are	We're playing	We are not	We're not playing/We aren't playing
They are	They're playing	They are not	They're not playing
